Effort to Save Sinking Tanker Ends in Failure

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — A desperate effort to save a sinking oil tanker and its valuable cargo from a watery grave off the South Carolina coast ended in failure early today when the ship sank in the Atlantic about 60 miles from shore.

The young skipper and two crewmen of the stricken, 10,165-ton Sinclair Oil Co. tanker SS George MacDonald had hoped to beach their helpless ship in shallow water today and repair it for sea duty again.

UNTIL 2:40 a. m. (e.d.t.), the MacDonald wallowed behind a sister tanker moving slowly toward shore. Her stern was under water, her decks awashed to mid-ship, and her bow jutting 29 feet higher than the fantail.

But a terse message from the towing tanker the SS J.E. Dyer, said the MacDonald "at 1:40 a.m. (e.s.t.) broke its tow in a light rain and 20 minutes later sank."

The Dyer's message added that a 30-foot section of the MacDonald's bow remained above water after she sank.

NORTH DAKOTA RACE IN DOUBT

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick closed in on Republican Gov. John Davis today in a photo finish in North Dakota's special senatorial election - a weathered farm belt leaning to the farm belt leanings in this presidential campaign year.

Burdick fought back from an 1,000-vote deficit in early returns and turned the closely watched race into a neck and neck contest on a surge of votes from slow-reporting rural areas.

WITH 1,701 OUT OF 2,310 precincts reporting, Davis led by 2,965 votes. He had 86,662 to 83,697 for Burdick.

Burdick, after a sleepless night, said, "I'm certainly not making any predictions when it's this close." He said that he would have to average a gain of four votes for every unreported precinct to win.

DEMOCRATS PREDICTED that Burdick, first Democratic congressman ever elected from North Dakota, would ride a tide of wheat belt discontent over administration farm policies to victory over Davis.

Davis insisted he could withstand the late trend toward Burdick and emerge the winner.

"I'm not ready to concede by any means," Davis said.

WITH THE RACE SO CLOSE, observers said the outcome would not be decided until sometime this afternoon.

Democrats hoped a Burdick victory would show mounting farm unrest against the policies of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and indicate the GOP is in trouble elsewhere in the wheat belt.

Republicans hoped a Davis victory would torpedo talk of a farm revolt in the November election.

Steinberg Named To Democratic Steering Group

Lionel Steinberg of Palm Springs, Southern chairman, Democratic State Central Committee, has been appointed by U. S. Senator Clair Engle as a member of the Steering Committee for the California Delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Engle will serve as chairman of the group, which will determine California delegate appointments to the National Convention committees such as platform, credentials, etc.

Initial meeting of the Steering Committee has been set for 2 p. m., Saturday, July 9, in the California Delegation Headquarters, the Knickerbocker Hotel in Hollywood.

Siren Told News

45 Known Dead In Mine Tragedy

SIX BELLS, Wales (AP) — The first blast of the siren sent shudders through the wives and mothers of Six Bells and made their babies cry.

"Bless those that are trapped and comfort their loved ones," the Rev. Osroff Jones was saying.

It was about noon. The men had been away two hours earning their keep at the big Arrael Griffin Colliery. Bankers' hours, is what the men on the other shifts called it.

"IT'S LIKE A battlefield," a rescue worker was saying. "They couldn't have known what hit them."

One by one, female heads poked hesitantly from the windows of the tiny Welsh cottages that dotted the hills above the pithead. Then they came running out, babies strapped to their backs, Welsh style.

THE LAST TIME the siren blew off schedule at Six Bells was 60 years ago! The babies, many of them to grow up without fathers, were carried the same way.

Seven hundred men were in the pit working 1,000 feet below ground when a gas pocket exploded Tuesday. All but 45 came out almost immediately.

The cheapest way to test for lethal gas in a cut off mine pocket is to thrust canaries into the hole. None of the canaries came back alive.

THE FIRST BODY brought out after five hours was that of Dennis Lane, not yet 20.

"Tom, Tom," shouted one woman. "Wilf, you're alive," sobbed another.

By early today, rescue workers had brought out a total of 33 bodies of the 45 known dead. Among the victims, were three fathers and son teams.

MRS. VALERIE Morgan went home to a long-cold supper, thinking of how she could explain later to her two-month-old son that he no longer had a father or a grandfather. Her husband Collin was 22; his father Roy, 44.

Two young miners made the unlikely mistake of oversleeping past their 10 a.m. showups Tuesday. They were among the mourning townsfolk of Six Bells today.

Annexation Of District Land Asked

Half-Section To Be Sold Through Bids

City Planning Director Herman Ranes told The Desert Sun today that he will recommend to the city planning commission and council that the city renew efforts to annex land north of Palm Springs which will be offered for sale by the Coachella Valley County Water District.

The Water District board announced Tuesday that it will offer for bid sale a half-section of land approximately one mile north of the Riviera Hotel here, on the east side of Indian Avenue. The district has owned the land since 1937.

DIRECTOR JACK Frost, who was named with Ray Rummonds to a committee to establish a minimum price for the land, said that possible use deed restrictions have not yet been discussed by the board.

"The problem hasn't come up yet," he explained.

Ranes stated his recommendation for renewal of efforts to annex the land would include "first asking the cooperation of the Coachella Valley Water District."

RANES' REASONS for the proposed annexation are:

—The section involved goes to the Whitewater River channel, which forms a natural northern boundary for the city.

—The current zoning on the parcel is M-3, which Ranes described as "the heaviest possible industry."

—The city could provide complete city services if the land is annexed, thus giving impetus to the development of the area.

Sheriff's Office Investigates Two Illegal Entries

INDIO — Sheriff's deputies here are investigating an entry into the home of Mary Maddick, Cadiz Way, in La Quinta.

Mrs. Frances Hack reported the entry had occurred sometime in the past week. It was not determined yet what may have been taken from the home.

Deputies also are investigating an entrance into the office and apartment in Rancho Mirage of Dr. Elmer Marvin Brown, Dr. Brown told officers entry had been made into the office by prying open a front door, and his desk drawers had been ransacked sometime over the past weekend. Nothing was taken.

Entry was also made into the doctor's living quarters adjacent to the office building through a bathroom window. Previous unauthorized entry into his home had been made last Christmas, Dr. Brown said.

President Plans July Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he hopes to get away for a vacation next month, probably in Newport, R. I., but the decision of Congress to return Aug. 8 will bring him back to Washington.

At 'Dream Homes'

Public to Name School Building

If you feel poetic or historically minded, you may be able to name the new elementary school in Section 17 — the "Dream Homes" area.

The school, expected to be ready for occupancy early next spring, is approximately in the center of a circular site, and will feature refrigerated cooling and a library-classroom.

School board member Everett Ball, chief of Ball Advertising, is heading a three member committee to make name recommendations to the board in the July 14 meeting. Ball has invited public suggestions for names. He may be reached at 165 Luring Drive, FA 5-2745.

The school name will be placed on the administration building — when ready — in the traditional bronze letters. Board president Dr. Bernard Poliak suggested in the last board meeting the Spanish poetry shouldn't be overdone in the new name — "Those big bronze letters get expensive," he said.

THE LAST TRIP OF a valiant old war-weary P-40 was interrupted for a couple of hours in Palm Springs when Wallace Larkin, right, owner of the craft, set down to put a new tachometer on the 19-year-old craft. Larkin had a brief reunion with Forrest Bird, right, a pilot buddy in World War II Ferry Command during the respite. Larkin was flying the craft — believed to be one of the three last airborne P-40s — to a museum in Florida. The trip requires an estimated nine hours of flying time, with four fuel stops between. The rugged little fighter, an "E" series of the line, is believed to have seen China service with the Flying Tigers, and then back to the South Pacific after American entry into the war. Charley Pike Services Held This Afternoon

SAN BERNARDINO — Funeral services for Charley Luther Pike, 32, contractor and former resident of Palm Springs, were held at 3:30 p.m., today, in the Mark B. Shaw chapel here.

Pike, who headed the C. L. Pike Sewer Company, died Saturday in a San Bernardino Hospital.

A native of Rock Mills, Ala., Pike lived in Palm Springs from 1938 to 1950, and operated his contracting firm there. He lived in Highland for the past 10 years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Thelma Pike; four sons, James Everett, San Bernardino; Charley Luther Pike, Jr., Highland; Lonnie Dean, Long Beach; and William David, Highland; three daughters, Mrs. Virginia Wade, Covina; Mrs. Mertha Damrath, Spain; and Miss Carol Pike, Highland; two brothers, William, Artesia, N. M., and James, San Bernardino; and 13 grandchildren.

Interment was set for Mountain View Cemetery.

'LAST' P-40 HERE ON FINAL FLIGHT

By PEYTON CANARY

One of the last of a hard-working species of war weary plane that went into combat obsolete in theoretical design, but held the tide in the crucial early days of the Pacific campaigns, set down in Palm Springs yesterday for minor repairs on its last journey.

Piloted by owner Wallace Larkin, Santa Ana cloud seeder and World War II Ferry Command pilot buddy of Forrest M. Bird, operator of the F. M. Bird Associates Oxygen Breathing Systems firm here, the P-40E carried a military Allison V-12 engine, and most original equipment except the six six calibre air cooled wing guns and the 500 pound belly bomb.

ON HER LAST TRIP, bound for Miami, the tough little fighter will be kept in sight of major roads, and flown at 11,000 feet or under.

"Mostly under," Larkin said. He added that five stops were planned for the trip since the craft carries only about 140 gallons of gasoline now — or enough for two hours, plus a 30 minute reserve.

The "pedigree" of the 19-year-old combat veteran is hazy, but it is known to have returned to Seattle from the Pacific theater at the end of the war. She made the trip home with 49 other old birds on the deck of an oil barge.

LARKIN EXPLAINED that the "A" series P-40, which became operational in late 1938 and early 1939, went to the Pacific American bases, and were eventually overrun by Japanese forces. After the American attacks pushed and circled northward through the island-strewn battle areas, the "N" series P-40 came off the lines, powered with Rolls Royce engines.

The "E" series got into the battle early, in China.

"She apparently came into the 14th Air Force from China—which means from Chennault's boys who fought the Japanese before we got in the war," Larkin explained.

NOW PAINTED BROWN and white, with the "Weather Modification" firm name lettered off of the canopy, the trusty old fighter turned cloud hopper six years ago, after being owned by a Canadian for six years.

"She's sturdy — I have two others, and I think they're the last," Larkin said.

Six Boy Campers Drown in River Tuesday Night

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP) — Six boy campers, 12 to 14 years old, plunged into the rain-swollen Wisconsin River while attempting a crossing on a rope Tuesday night and were missing and feared drowned today.

Camp personnel told of a wild scene of shouting and confusion in darkness as 14 other youths, in a group of 20 under direction of a camp supervisor, also plunged into the water in an attempt to rescue those who first went into the swift-running stream.

Some of the would-be rescuers were saved only after they in turn had been forced to cling to stumps or find refuge on sandbars to keep themselves from being swept away by the current.

The missing boys were all from Chicago. The camp is a Ukrainian youth camp.

YOUTH SUFFERS BROKEN LEG IN SOFTBALL GAME

Marvin Richard Galleran, 22, a player on the Mazzula All-Stars team in the Desert Softball League, was reported in "good" condition today following a broken leg suffered in last night's game at the Palm Springs Polo Grounds.

Galleran, second baseman for the All-Stars, was slid into by Howard Keeney of the California Water and Telephone Company in the first inning of the game.

Officials at Desert Hospital said today that Galleran suffered breaks of both the tibia and fibula (the two bones that run from knee to ankle) but that the bones had been set.

The official said that Galleran's condition was "good" and that he had spent a "fair" night following the mishap.

For details on the game, won by the All-Stars, see today's Sports Page.

Hailstones Exceed Size Of Ice Cubes

One Fatality Recorded in Illinois Town

By United Press International

A killer storm system struck the Middle West Tuesday night with tornadoes, winds up to 115 miles an hour and hailstones twice as big as ice cubes.

At least one person died and several were injured. Damage was in the thousands of dollars.

MRS. CHARLES Gause, 70, was killed when the roof of her apartment building in Quincy, Ill., was blown off by 95 mile an hour winds. Her body was found under four tons of rubble.

The wind knocked out all power in Mississippi River city. Hospitals and police used emergency generators but otherwise the community was in darkness.

IN ROCKFORD, Illinois' second largest city, police said the hail broke nearly 100 windows, including almost every pane in the three-story senior high school.

The stones were so big they bruised 40 golfers caught on the links.

Kentucky state police said two tornadoes hit the Blue Grass State, one at Henderson and another at Seabree. But no damage was reported.

MISSOURI STATE police said violent winds uprooted trees and ripped down utility wires in Louisiana and Clarksville. A power company said it would be at least two days before service was restored.

Near cloudburst rains lashed Manitowoc, Wis., sending water over curbs, collapsing basements and stranding hundreds of office workers. More than a third of an inch of rain fell in Milwaukee in a few minutes.

THE STORM WAS so severe in Iowa that cornfields were riddled by hail which weighed a quarter pound.

The storm saved its most damaging winds for Ottumwa, Iowa. Hurricane force winds of 115 miles an hour uprooted 100-year-old trees, damaged buildings and left Ottumwa streets littered with debris.

School District Board to Hold Special Meeting

The Palm Springs Unified School District board will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the administration offices, 538 North Palm Canyon Drive, to consider employment of certificated and certified personnel.

Other items for immediate attention will also be discussed, the administration announced.

Panorama Seeks Formation for Water District

A petition for formation of the Palm Springs Water District, on this week's agenda of the Board of Supervisors, was put aside when it was learned that a required $1,000 surety bond had not been received. The bond would assure cost of formation of the district in case the district is not effected.

Petitioners for the district are directors of Palm Springs Panorama. Proposed boundaries are those of Section 33, Township 2 South, Range 4 East, an area of 640 acres on the south side of 12th Avenue west of Desert Hot Springs. According to the petition, source of water for the district is the Rancho Ramon Water Company, via an 8-inch transmission line.

When the $1,000 bond is received, the Board of Supervisors will request approval by the boundaries commission of the proposed boundaries and set a hearing date.

NO VIOLATIONS IN SEGALL OPERATION

Jerald Segall is now operating a garage and an air conditioning sales and service business on his property on Highway 111 east of Cabrillo Avenue in Palm Desert, the Board of Supervisors was informed this week by Ray C. Smith, land use administrator.

Smith said five visits to the property during the past week have failed to give any evidence of body and fender work about which neighboring property owners have complained.

"WHAT ABOUT the noise?" asked Supervisor George Berkey. "We have no control over noise," replied Smith. "They'll have to go to the sheriff about that."

Berkey said he has received complaints about operation of a nearby Texaco service station as well as about the Segall property and wondered if there might be some confusion over the two operations.

THE SUPERVISORS asked Smith to check with the complainers and come back with a further report.

Smith's investigation was prompted by receipt last week of a complaint that although Segall had been denied a permit to operate a body and fender repair shop he has gone ahead with such an operation. Their complaint stated that "Segall is hammering, electrically sanding by machine, pounding, and painting auto bodies as frequently as seven days a week."

"ANOTHER COMPLAINT was before the board this week bearing the same signatures as that received last week, plus that of Randall Henderson. It charged that the present lessee of the Texaco service station at the corner of Highway 111 and Cabrillo Avenue has a large volume of major automobile and truck repair work. "It has developed into an automobile junk and wrecking yard to an extent that is not tolerable," the complaint stated. "It is extremely noisy day and night and has a disgraceful and unsightly appearance." The complaint charged also that the service station has the AAA towing service and is hauling in wrecked cars and dumping them on the property where they remain "days and weeks at a time."

SMITH EXPLAINED later that whereas Segall had sought to establish a new business requiring a variance, which the planning commission denied, the Texaco service station was in existence when zoning in the area became effective and accordingly can continue to operate as a non-conforming use in the same manner in which it was operating when the zoning law was enacted.

The complaint against present operation of the service station stated that previous lessees had operated it as a dispensing fuel and oil service station with other minor auto services, permissible as a non-conforming use.

three airborne P-40s," Larkin said. He explained that even the Air Force and the Air Academy at Colorado Springs has been unable to find the early war birds for museums.

"The P-40 didn't have much automatic to go wrong. Most of her mechanism is strictly push-pull," Larkin said.

DURING THE MORE than four years he flew the plane across the nation on cloud-seeding jobs, Larkin pushed into storm clouds and weather heads as a business routine.

"You develop a certain feeling for them after you've bucked out a few storms with them. They weren't fast — about 275 cruising speed, and with luck you could edge it up to 27 or 28,000 feet — but they always kept chopping along," he explained.

The P-38, the twin-fuselage Lockheed fighter, on the other hand, was the first operational prop craft with a 400 mile-per-hour level flight speed in general use.

THE P-40, FAMED for the Flying Tiger shark nose and the ability to take hard landings and make short take off, was the American answer to the famed Japanese Zero, which was highly maneuverable.

"She's going to a museum in Florida, where the old USAAC insignia will be put back on, and she will be a memento of a stout ship and the good men who flew her before the high-performance planes came out," Larkin said. About 14,000 P-40s were produced from 1938 until the end of 1941.

FOREST SUPERVISOR WARNS ON FIREWORKS DISCHARGE

The discharge, possession, sale or offering for sale of any type of fireworks in San Bernardino and Riverside counties, including all portions of the San Bernardino National Forest is prohibited by state law and county ordinance, according to Don Bauer, forest supervisor.

Persons purchasing fireworks in other areas, including the so-called "safe and sane" fireworks, are cautioned not to transport into or through San Bernardino or Riverside counties.

FOREST RANGERS, expecting crowds far in excess of the 300,000 persons who visited the San Bernardino National Forest during

TV's Their Desire

NURENBERG, Germany (UPI) —If a West German consumer were given a blank check to buy he would choose a television set, according to a survey made here.

The Society for Consumer Research said television sets stand first among the wants of 4,514 households questioned. In fact, 51 times as many people listed them as during a similar survey in 1953. Those surveyed were asked to choose their biggest wants from a list of 174 items.

"THE SMALLEST spark from fireworks or any carelessly used fire could bring about a serious forest fire," stated Bauer. "We cannot tolerate the threat of loss of life and destruction of our valuable watershed and recreation areas."

Forest Rangers will take to the air in airplanes and helicopter to maintain a constant watch on the forest to insure that each visitor has a safe, enjoyable, fire-free Fourth of July.

Wrigley Field Assembly Plans Being Readied

LOS ANGELES — "Final plans are being developed for one of the largest Christian gatherings of the year at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, July 7-10," Joseph A. Begin, presiding minister of the Cathedral City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses stated last night.

The event is the Peace - Pursuing District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses and it is expected that 30,000 will attend.

UNDER THE direction of Shield Halvajian, Los Angeles minister, preliminary work has been in progress since May 30th at Convention Headquarters, 10615 South Figueroa Street, Los Angeles. A total of 22 convention departments have been established to insure smooth assembly operation.

Begin further revealed speakers from the world headquarters of the Watchtower Bible Society, convention sponsors, as well as district, circuit and local ministers would appear on the program. Bruce E. Giffin, district minister for Jehovah's Witnesses in south-west United States, will be the featured speaker of the event. Giffin is well-known in this section, having addressed large crowds in this vicinity during recent years.

ACCORDING to Begin, the purpose of the assembly is to assist Jehovah's Witnesses to become more efficient in the ministry and to show how Bible principles and teachings can be applied in one's daily life.

The assembly will be climaxed at 3 p. m., July 10, when Giffin speaks on the subject, "Security During War of the Great Day of God the Almighty."

Quarter Dividend For Western Air Lines Told

Regular quarterly dividend of $0.25 a share was declared this week by the board of directors of Western Air Lines, Inc. meeting at Minneapolis.

The cash dividend, third voted this year, is payable Aug. 5 to shareholders of record July 15, it was announced by J. Judson Taylor, Western's vice president and treasurer.

Previous cash dividends were paid on March 4 and May 18, and a 5 per cent stock dividend was distributed on March 23, he said. Today's dividend action was taken on the basis of 1,430,730 shares outstanding.

Taylor reported to the WAL Board that estimated figures for the month of May indicate the airline topped the breakeven point with a small profit. Western was one of the few airlines in the nation to earn a profit in the first quarter of 1960, and the company showed earnings of $176,000 in April.

Happy Homecoming

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Roy Simmons, assistant football coach and head scout for Syracuse University, was in Archbold Stadium here when the Orangemen opened their 1959 season against Kansas. It was the first time in his 34-year coaching career that Simmons who's usually on the road scouting, has seen Syracuse open its home season. The Orange won 35-21.

When Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by one vote in the electoral college, his election was contested and referred to an electoral commission, where he won again—by a single vote.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY 14TH GROSS INCOME AREA IN CALIFORNIA

Riverside County ranked 14 among California counties in average adjusted gross income per taxable return in the 1958 income year, State Controller Alan Cranston disclosed today.

The statewide average was $8,305.

Riverside County's 1958 average was $8,119, Cranston said, compared to its 1957 figure of $7,718 when it ranked No. 22.

Marina County residents placed first in the state, with an average of $9,544.

SUPERVISORS VOTE REBUKES PLANNERS

Although the County Planning Commission recommended denial of a request by Bess Matloff for a one-year extension of time to file a final map of the Andrea Acres subdivision north of Highway 60-70-99, east of Washington Street and north of Bermuda Dunes, the Board of Supervisors granted the request this week.

The tentative map on which the planning commission recommended denial was approved by the supervisors July 20, 1959, subject to notification to the state real estate commissioner of the possibility of flood conditions in certain locations and to construction of houses on pads at least 18 inches above the flow line.

This precaution was taken at the suggestion of Lowell Weeks, general manager and chief engineer of the Coachella Valley County Water District.

Wrong Way to Go

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Walter E. Maugens Jr., 32, decided it was a nice night to take a trip to see his father in Pennsylvania. But his method of transportation tripped him up.

Sheriff's deputies stopped Maugens about 30 miles from Buffalo. He was at the wheel of a stolen bus. He wound up on the receiving end of a $200 fine and was given a suspended three-month jail sentence and placed on indefinite probation.

SUPERVISORS PASS SAND PROBLEM TO ROAD DEPARTMENT

A request by the Riverside County Association of Chambers of Commerce that the Board of Supervisors study the blowing sand situation in the Thousand Palms area and "arrive at a solution of the problem" was referred this week to the road department.

W. T. Lyell, president of the association, said the request was prompted by an appeal by the Thousand Palms Chamber of Commerce for support in its efforts to have the county put up a sand fence to keep the sand from blowing along Ramon Road west of the railroad and along Rio Del Sol Road.

At the suggestion of Supervisor George Berkey the extension of time was granted subject to additional conditions which the planning commission recommended be imposed should the request be approved.

The new conditions require the subdivider to comply with the health department recommendation that water be furnished by a water company operating under a permit as required by the state health and safety code, and that streets be improved to county subdivision improvement standards.

Monroe Street Setback Gains County Approval

A setback of 44 feet west of the centerline of Monroe Street between Highway 60 and Highway 111 west of the city of Indio was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week and county counsel was instructed to prepare an ordinance for its establishment.

Planning Director Tyler Suss told the supervisors that the city and the county have plans to improve Monroe between Highway 111 and Bliss Avenue in the near future with a 40-foot pavement.

"It is anticipated that a full 64-foot section of pavement will be ultimately needed," said Suss, "and the immediate improvement will be designed with this ultimate section in view."

Monroe Street is the boundary line between the county and the western extremity of the city.

Otherwise, Run

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — If you see a skunk walking along the street, pick it up — if it has a red collar around its neck.

That's the kind of advice the Fish and Game Department has given Concord residents. Officials said the skunk, deer-sized, belongs to Mrs. Harriet Wilcox. It has been her pet since it was rescued from a hotel swimming pool.

Congolese Gals Dance in the Street

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI) — Smiling African women danced in the streets of this excited city with their menfolk today in dresses bearing the declaration: "Independence on June 30."

Spontaneous celebrations anticipating the formal emergence of the Belgian Congo as a sovereign nation flowered everywhere, even in those native sections that only two days ago were in a state of emergency because of political rioting.

MANY OF THE CONGOLESE men, jumping the gun on a scheduled 45-hour national holiday, stayed away from their jobs to dance and party.

White residents, still fearful of possible racial violence when the Belgian government ends its long rule over the sprawling African territory, stayed off the streets as much as possible, rarely venturing into the African sections.

THE ENTIRE TERRITORY, one-third the size of the United States, was reported peaceful despite political discontent among Baluba and Bangala tribesmen who failed to gain representation in the new native government.

A thousand Baluba demonstrators before Parliament Monday when President Joseph Kasu Vubu was sworn in as chief of state, but a heavy police guard discouraged any violence.

LIKE TO GET LAW TO PUNISH CUBA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress
soon will hand President Eisenhower unprecedented power to deliver punishing blows against the economy of Cuba and its anti-
American regime headed by Fidel Castro.
The House Agriculture Committee by a 33-0 vote launched a bipartisan push Monday night for legislation to grant the President's request for authority to cut Cuban sugar marketings in this country.

CAN'T TICKET HEDGE SO OFFICERS WRITE CITATIONS FOR PAIR

You obviously can't give a ticket to a hedge so California Highway Patrol officers issued twin citations to the drivers of two vehicles involved in an afternoon collision in the Cathedral
City area Monday.
James Allan Hayes, 27, of 2290 Araby Drive, and Juan Godinez, 22, of 31-691 Rodeo Drive, collided in the middle of the intersection of Paradise Way and Grandview Drive at 4:30 p. m.,
Monday.
The CHP advised that a large hedge, obstructing all visibility in the intersection, merited cautious driving in the intersection.
Neither driver was injured although the CHP issued citations to both charging "unsafe speed."
The hedge got off scot-free.

A Surprise Party for Rafaela

By GEORGE LAINE

For more years than any of the longtime Villagers can remember, Rafaela Marmolejo has been a builder.

It was her hands that wrought the first Mexican Colony here, her agile mind that kept it worthy, and vital.

HER STORY IS the story of the growth of the Mexican Colony here although it is also a human, poignant story that carries the heart-break and tragedy which mark our lives.

She was a guiding force in the Our Lady of Solitude Church here when it was actually the only functioning Catholic church in the town. She was also instrumental in the establishment of the new Our Lady of Guadalupe Church and a responsible, interested citizen in matters pertaining to the entire community as well as to her infant Mexican Colony.

FOR MORE THAN a year now, she has written of the Colony in a column titled "De Aquí Y Allá" which appears once a week in The Desert Sun. It is through this medium that more and more people — some of whom had only heard of the near-legendary work of Rafaela — were able to enjoy the sincerity, the great good humor, the warmth and the joys of Rafaela Marmolejo.

She has done this column — and met her weekly "deadline" with a responsibility that all news gatherers should emulate — despite a savage bout with rheumatic fever following a major heart surgery.

ON A RECENT evening, in the home of Manuel Villegas at 31-629 Rodeo Drive, Rafaela's sister Sideronia Villegas and some friends — labored in a kitchen over relishes — mainly Carmen Jurado, Mary Salais and Josie Villegas Lenos, enchiladas, refritos, tortillas, salad and an unusual variety of punch that carried its own, tequila — supported wallop.

Rafaela — with her two children, Aguilera and Omar — arrived in the nick of time. She reached the door at approximately the same time as the first guest and became the official greeting agent for her own birthday party.

INTO THE VILLEGAS home came a steady stream of citizens, most of them recipients of Rafaela's great charity at one time or another.

Dr. John A. Costello and his wife Gwen arrived. Then came Joyce and Beto Avila. Then Fred Hepner. Then Anna Gonzales. Peggy Rashall and her daughter Kate came.

From India came Rudy and Josie Villegas, from Palm Desert came Catalina Contreras and her daughter Cecilia.

Sofia Donny and son Alex, Rojelito Lita and daughter Magge Bojorques, Fidelia Ayala, Mary Salais, Carmen Jurado, Maria and Kico Marmolejo, Sally and Pete Herrera — along with their three daughters, Flor, Antonietta and Mary Francis — all joined the crowd and so did Manuel Arreola. Dimar, Paula and Beatrice Gonzales attended and so did Rafaela's mother, Mrs. Jovita Romero.

NOT ATTENDING — but sending gifts or best wishes — were a host of other people including Sylvia and Yvonne Salais and Elsie Stultz.

Mayor Frank Bogert usually attends Mexican Colony functions — he can't resist the relish and neither can I — but he sent his hopes for a repeat performance in 1961.

The affair was simple but the reason complex. Perhaps no other woman in this Village has done so much for so many for so long as has Rafaela Marmolejo.

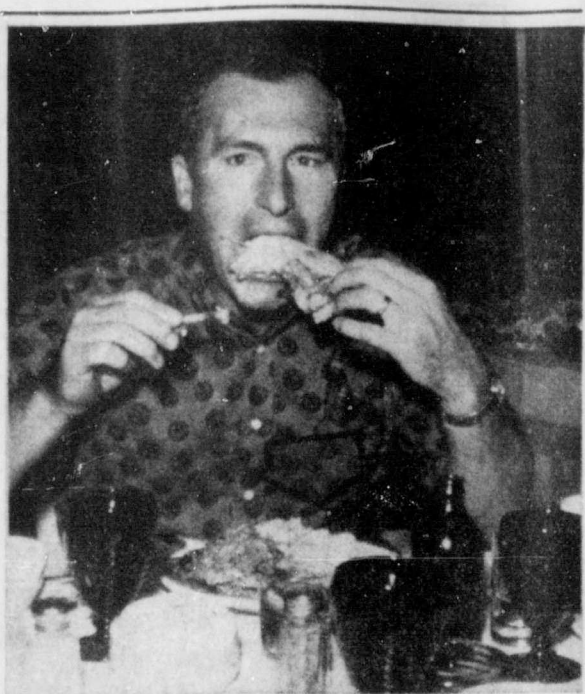

But the beautiful thing about Rafaela — and the real reason that the Villegas house was jam packed with people — is that she has given herself without question, without compensation. She simply wants to help people.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: If both Carole Tregoff and Beverly Aadland's mother can beat their respective charges, they'd make a great start on a new panel show for TV . . . They could call it "What's My Crime?" or "Can You Top Us?" . . . Fill in your own choices for the other two panelists . . .

FOLK CULTURE SET AS ISOMATA STUDY

IDYLLWILD — A growing interest in folk cultures has increased the popularity each year of the International Folk Dance Workshop and the Folk Music Workshop at ISOMATA, The Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts, in Idyllwild, California.

The Folk Music Workshop takes place during July 11 to 22 and includes singing and playing folk music of the world, a study of folklore, problems of translation, arranging, accompanying and leading folk singing. The use of the guitar, banjo, and other folk instruments is also a part of this workshop. Students may register

JUKE BOX DANCE SLATED FOR FRIDAY AT YOUTH CENTER

An informal juke-box dance for Junior Hi youngsters will be held at the Youth Center, 386 North Belardo Road, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Friday, acting director Jim Dunne announced.

Informal, Dunne explained, means dresses and low-heeled shoes for the girls, and slacks and sports shirt for the boys.

Youngsters who will enroll in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades this fall are invited, with a "special welcome extended to the new Junior High students," Dunne said.

Admission for the dance will be 25 cents. Parents are requested to pick up the children attending by 10 p.m.

Catholics, Baseball Get Author Scrutiny

"American non-Catholics are afraid of the Catholic Church, and its behavior in certain other countries has not reassured them," states Rutgers University Professor Stringfellow Barr in a new book, "American Catholics: A Protestant - Jewish View."

Barr is one of seven contributors to the symposium which was published recently, by Sheed and Ward, New York.

THE OTHERS, ALL discussing the image of the American Catholic as it appears to those of other religions in the American community, are Robert McAfee Brown, of Union Theological Seminary; Arthur Cohen, author and president of Meridian Books; Rabbi Arthur Gilbert of the Anti-Defamation League; Martin Marty, Associate Editor of The Christian Century; and Allyn Robinson of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

A concluding section, in the form of a brief "Catholic Postscript," has been written by Rev. Gustave Weigel, S. J., of Woodstock College.

In voicing one of the recurrent observations offered in the book, Dr. Brown asserts: "If the barriers of misinformation and misunderstanding are to be broken down, American Catholicism must be willing to let its constituency become literate on the subject of Protestantism." — S. W. B.

IF THERE'S A question about how to play baseball, it's sure to be answered in Ethan Allen's "Baseball Play and Strategy," published recently by The Ronald Press Company ($5.50).

Through more than 500 action photos, well-known major leaguers demonstrate the skills that have made them famous: batting, bunting, base running, sliding — how to catch, pitch, play the infield and the outfield.

FANS AND PLAYERS alike will find this treasury of baseball lore the most complete and practical guide to the game ever published — from fundamentals to the most advanced tactics of team play.

ETHAN ALLEN is a well-known college coach, and a former major league player. In his thirteen-year career in big-league baseball he played for six teams and compiled a lifetime batting average of .300. A skilled photographer, he has developed a personal library of baseball pictures which is the envy of players, coaches, and publishers — and he has drawn upon this collection for the photographs that best demonstrate the proper techniques and the correct execution of plays. R. P. C.

CHANGE OF LOVE, by Vivienne Koch (McDowell, Obolensky): A novel of intrigue among a group backdrop in an Institute for American Studies in an Austrian castle. Siegfried Volk, American literature professor at the institute, is drawn into personal relationships with other faculty members and several attractive brilliant young European coeds from both sides of the Iron Curtain. Tension mounts as he drifts into an unwanted affair with a beauty whose husband is a Yugoslav general. Then there is Judith Marx, another lovely creature, who seeks Volk's protection from a former lover. To say nothing of the institute director's appeal to Volk to help solve a theft without damaging publicity to the institute. Through the professor's involvement with the lives of others he achieves greater insight into his own problems.

SHERIFF SAYS:

Inquisitive Citizenry Held Vital

A democracy is kidding itself if there exists no continuous inquiry of its citizens into the operations of its government.

The machinery of justice reflects the wishes of the community — no more — the representatives of the people seldom exceed the ethical and moral standards set up by the public. It is you, the people, who provide the climate or the attitudes, the points of view and the social and moral standards of the peace officer, the judge, the prosecutor and the attorneys.

THE PEACE officer, the judge and district attorney would call the people's "justice program" perhaps.

Now any honest, conscientious, taxpaying citizen tells himself that he expects, deserves and demands absolute protection by his justice program. He gets pretty bitter if he learns that a con - artist who has gyped him goes scott-free and is never punished. This citizen will angrily mutter, no doubt, "I guess if you know the right people you can get away with murder — just let me drive my car a little fast and what happens — I get pinched by a cop."

NOW, LET'S continue to look at this particular citizen a few days later. He does get a ticket for speeding as he so rightly predicted. One day while pondering over the "evils of crooked law enforcement" he became so engrossed that he carelessly drove his car 45 miles per hour through a school zone and was cited by a traffic officer. This does it, for sure.

However, he dutifully continues toward his destination, the supermarket, and while waiting by the market cashier to pay for a loaf of bread he runs into a fellow member of his lodge who just happens to be the chief clerk of the judge who will decide what to do about his traffic ticket.

WHAT DO YOU suppose the one-sided conversation is that ensues? You guessed it — the traffic ticket. Furthermore, in the conversation the chances are excellent that one question will be asked by Mr. Citizen of this court clerk, "Say, do you suppose you, by any small chance, could fix this ticket with the judge, old buddy?"

Whether or not this representative of the court does or does not make any attempt to "do a favor" for Mr. Citizen is immaterial at this point. The point is, Mr. Citizen himself is attempting to do the very thing he accused the con - artist of doing in escaping prosecution, only on a different scale.

THE SIMPLE point I am making here is, representatives of the people do not necessarily corrupt themselves. They are made corrupt by the people who are willing to buy for themselves special privileges or immunity to the law. Mr. Citizen cannot expect his justice program personnel to reject what he, himself, permits.

The administration of criminal justice can be made efficient and incorruptible nationwide only if the citizenry demands an efficient and incorruptible justice program. Such a program implies that no citizen will be able to get special favors for himself.

Are you willing to pay the price?

Idyllwild Street Project Okehd

Improvement of Hemstreet Street in Idyllwild from Strong Street south for a distance of approximately 1,100 feet as a cooperative project was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week on recommendation of Road Commissioner A. C. Keith.

The improvement will consist of reshaping the existing gravelled section and paving the road a 24-foot width. Total estimated cost of the project is $1,200 of which $345 for liquid asphalt will be paid for by property owners.

COUNTY ROADS COST $315 PER MILE, SAYS COMMISSIONER

Road Commissioner A. C. Keith revealed Monday that total expenditures and maintenance to county roads for this fiscal year, not including overhead costs, totals $912,000, or $315 per mile.

Keith said this compares favorably with costs revealed by the Division of Highways recently for maintenance of normal frontage roads in counties throughout the state as averaging from $500 to $1,900 per mile per year.

Fullmer Favored 13-5 Over Basilio Tonight

All-Australian Men's Singles Finals Seen

Fraser, Laver Favored to Win Matches Today

WIMBLEDON, England — (UPI) — Neale Fraser and Rod Laver were heavy favorites to win their semi-final matches in the Wimbledon tennis championships today and set up an all-Australian battle for the men's singles crown.

Top-seeded Fraser, who won the U.S. national championship at Forest Hills, N.Y., last year, was pitted against Ramanathan Krishnan of India, and third-seeded Laver faced Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

IT MARKED THE first time since World War II that the United States was not represented in the semifinals of the men's singles. Barry Mackay of Dayton, O., was eliminated by Pietrangeli and Earl Buchholz of St. Louis defaulted to Fraser because of painful leg injuries in Monday's quarterfinals.

The Yanks lost further prestige Tuesday when their final two survivors in the women's singles were eliminated. Christine Truman of England turned back Karen Hantze of San Diego, Calif., 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Sandra Reynolds of South Africa ousted Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

THE ELIMINATION of the California blondes, following on the heels of the Yanks' "Black Monday" show, left the U.S. without a player in either of the singles semifinals for the first time in 33 years.

The only U.S. hopes remaining were in the doubles, and even there prospects were not too bright.

Buchholz and his St. Louis buddy Chuck McKinley, were forced to pull out of the men's doubles because of Earl's severe ankle injury, leaving a pick-up team of Mackay and Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn to carry on alone for the Yanks.

Pirates Await Ruling by Giles on Doubleheader

PITTSBURGH — (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today waited for a ruling from National League President Warren Giles on whether they would have to play the second game of a doubleheader in Philadelphia July 10.

Pirate pitcher Bob Friend, the club's player representative, said Tuesday night that the team decided against playing the contest because it would be "too strenuous."

FRIEND POINTED out that the team is slated to play a night game July 9. The contest in question was rescheduled because of rain-out games earlier this season.

"We feel that this doubleheader is coming at an important time of the season when we are making a run for the pennant," Friend stated.

He said his teammates unanimously agreed in a vote Tuesday not to take the field for the nightcap.

"EVEN THE OWNERS and the ball players had agreed that a doubleheader should not be played after a night game," he said. "We feel the game can be played at another date."

PALM DESERT LITTLE LEAGUES PLAY AT POLO CLUB

PALM DESERT — The Eldorado Polo Club field is now resounding two days a week to calls of baseball fans, as the Pee Wees and Midgets Little League teams hit the diamond each Monday and Tuesday.

Polo players Larry Teller, a former All-American, Ted Pierce and Lisle Nixon spearheaded the movement to turn the ample turf over to the Little Leaguers for the summer play.

YANKES LISTEN TO STENGEL, WIN

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International

Casey Stengel almost talked himself blue in the face but finally got that red-letter performance he was after from his first-place New York Yankees.

"If I told my players once, I told 'em a thousand times not to try to kill those knuckleball pitchers," Stengel said. "It simply can't be done. You gotta just meet the ball, that's all."

CASEY TOLD the Yankees again Tuesday night and for once, they listened.

Coming up as a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning, Bob Cerv remembered Stengel's advice and merely slapped at one of knuckleballer Bud Daley's offerings. The half-swing did the trick. Cerv was credited with a bloop double that broke a 2-2 tie, touched off a three-run rally and led the Yankees to a 5-2 victory over the Athletics.

MICKEY MANTLE, who swings from his heels no matter what Stengel says, caught hold of one of Daley's third-inning pitches and rammed it into the seats for his 17th homer.

Cerv's double, which came in a pinch-hitting role for winning pitcher Bob Turley, paced the Yankees to their ninth victory in the last 12 games and enabled them to solidify their lead over the second-place Baltimore Orioles.

CLEVELAND BEAT Baltimore, 3-2, in 11 innings, Washington edged Chicago, 2-1, in 14 innings and Detroit defeated Boston, 10-1. Milwaukee climbed to within 2 games of the National League lead with a 5-3 victory over Chicago, Pittsburgh and San Francisco battled to a 7-7 tie in a game called at the end of nine innings because of curfew, Philadelphia blanked Los Angeles, 2-0, and Cincinnati beat St. Louis, 10-4.

JOHNNY TEMPLE'S 11th-inning homer off reliever Gordon Jones gave the Indians their victory after Al Pilarcik tied the score at 2-2 for the Orioles with

15-Round Return Match

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — Carmen Basilio, grand little battler of the 1950's, tries to recapture the National Boxing Association's version of the world middleweight crown tonight from bull-shouldered Gene Fullmer, the only man who ever stopped him.

This return 15-rounder between 33-year-old Basilio of Chittenden, N.Y., and 28-year-old Fullmer of nearby West Jordan, Utah, will be televised nationally by ABC at 7 p.m.

HOWEVER, BECAUSE of the time-zone differences they'll square off at sundown here at Derks Field, where fair and continued warm weather has been promised. A crowd of 13,000 and a gate of $125,000 are expected at Salt Lake City's first world title fight.

Fullmer is favored at 13-5 to beat Carmen again.

THE WEST JORDAN mauler is favored because he stopped Basilio, former welterweight and middleweight champion, in the 14th round of their fight for the vacant NBA crown at San Francisco, last Aug. 23. The NBA had vacated Sugar Ray Robinson's title for his failure to defend.

In that San Francisco fight, which reached a thrilling competitive peak in the sixth round, left-hooker Basilio was so exhausted in the 14th that his handlers asked the referee to stop the bout.

In the dressing room, victorious Fullmer's face showed bruises and cuts in several places.

BASILIO HASN'T fought since. He took a long rest and then went into serious training. He wound up his conditioning campaign for tonight's fight at the Industrial School in Ogden, Utah — 35 miles away. There he sparred in secret, lest Fullmer learn what weapons he was sharpening.

Craggy-faced Carmen, who motored into town from Ogden Tuesday night, told friends today: "I'm going to knock him out. I figure I've got to knock him out to win—since we're fighting in his home state."

IN CASE OF A Basilio victory, a return-bout contract provides for a "rubber match" within 90 days at a site to be selected by the promoters of tonight's fight—Salt Lake's Fran Haun of the International Boxing Club and Norman Rothchild of Syracuse, N.Y.

For that third match, each fighter would receive 30 per cent of all net receipts.

Baseball Bill Appears Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver's bill to bring organized baseball under the anti-trust laws today appeared dead for this session of Congress.

The Senate, striking a heavy blow at the proposed new Continental League, voted 73-12 Tuesday night to send the measure back to the judiciary committee where it is expected to remain until Congress adjourns.

Mazzula Stars Rally in Sixth For 9-6 Victory

The last-place Mazzula All-Stars came from behind with a six-run uprising in the sixth inning to defeat the California Water and Telephone Company, 9-6, as the Desert Softball League launched second round play here last night.

The game proved costly for the All-Stars who lost the services of second baseman Marv Gallarini, victim of a broken leg in the first inning.

THE PHONEMEN jumped off to an initial lead and added to it through the first five innings. At the end of five and half frames, CWTC enjoyed a 5-3 lead.

But in the last of the sixth inning, the All-Stars combined three bases on balls with a CWTC error and three hits to push across six runs and ice the game. Tom English's homer was the highlight of the uprising.

JONES TOOK THE victory for the All-Stars while Martin suffered the defeat.

In play tonight, the league leading Mexican Colony faces second place Desert Hot Springs. The Colony team has an undefeated record and the only DHS loss came at the hands of the Colony in the first round opener.

Tonight's second game pits Coachella Valley Savings and Loan against the Massey Sand and Gravel team.

Has 'Difficult' Practice Round

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) — Arnold Palmer's first practice round over the famed St. Andrews golf course wasn't too encouraging.

In fact, it was almost enough to scare the bejabbers out of the bookies who have installed the Ligonier, Pa., shotmaker as the favorite for next week's British Open championship.

L.A., PHILLIES TO PLAY 2 TONIGHT

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax, enduring perhaps their most dismal year as major leaguers, pitch for the Dodgers tonight against the Philadelphia Phillies — the "Fizz Kids" turned Whiz Kids — of 1960.

While the current Phillies hardly compare at this stage with the pennant-winning 1950 aggregation, they showed considerable class Tuesday night in a 2-0 victory over the puzzling Dodgers.

IN TONIGHT'S two-night double header at Connie Mack Field, Drysdale, 4-10, and Koufax, 2-8 take their turns against lanky Gene Conley, 3-3, and Robin Roberts, 4-7.

Drysdale has suffered seven straight losses in a seemingly inexplicable slump.

Roberts is the single survivor of the 1950 Whiz Kids. The current edition added a new member Tuesday night in Dallas Green, who posted his first win with a three-hitter over the Dodgers.

FRANK "PANCHE" Herrera's solo homer in the seventh inning was the big blow for the Phillies. Philadelphia got its lead in the first on back-to-back doubles by Tony Gonzales, a young recruit from Cincinnati, and Tony Taylor, a former Cub.

Stan Williams, the Dodger starter, suffered his second loss in the contest against six wins. He was very much in the game, however, until the seventh when Herrera kept alive his 20-game hitting streak with his homer to right field.

Williams was lifted for Ed

Elks Club Colts Score Early, Coast to Win

INDIO — The Palm Springs Elks Club Colts scored three runs in the first inning, then coasted to a 6-2 victory over the Oasis Wildcats in a game played at Padres Field here last night.

Carlos Reyes won another one for the Village nine, his third win against no defeats.

The Colts have a bye this Friday.

CHP Promises Crackdown on 1-Car Mishaps

Speed, Drinking Sleepiness Held As Major Causes

SACRAMENTO — Single car crashes in which the automobile ran off the roadway and overturned or struck some other object accounted for 28.4 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents in California last year, reports the California Highway Patrol.

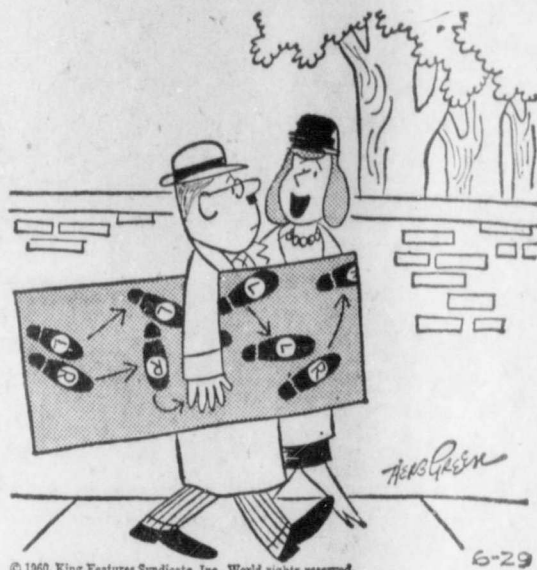

Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said there were 871 single car accidents in which 983 persons were killed. One-fourth of them occurred during the three-hour period from 1 a.m. until 4 a.m.

"FOUR OUT OF five of these accidents happened outside of cities and were investigated by the California Highway Patrol," Crittenden continued.

The information we gathered indicates one or more of three factors — too much speed, drinking, and sleepiness — contributed to almost all of them.

"THIS IS DEFINITELY a kind of accident that the individual motorist can prevent. The answer lies partly in reducing speed not only to within the legal limit but also to the speed at which the driver can keep his car under control.

FUNERAL DUE THURSDAY FOR ROBERT N. BERLIN

BANNING — Funeral service will be held at 10 a.m., Thursday, for former Riverside County Planning Commissioner Robert N. Berlin, who died here Sunday.

Berlin, one-time mayor of Banning, was well known in the Palm Springs - Desert area for his interest in governmental operations. He is survived by his wife, Leola Moore Berlin, and by two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Taylor of Banning and Mrs. Vance Noel of Centralia, Wash.

The Masonic funeral — in a church to be named later — will be followed by interment at Sunnyslope Cemetery.

The first ship to be constructed on the Columbia River was the Dolly, which was taken to Astoria, Ore., in the hold of another ship, the Tonquin, and assembled at Upper Astoria in 1811.

Lotsa Gals Eyed As 'Farmer's Dotter'

HEMET — Five finalists in the annual Farmer's Daughter queen contest, sponsored by the Farmer's Fair at Hemet, will be selected Thursday at the Mission Inn in Riverside.

The event will begin at 10 a.m.

ACCORDING TO BUD Nelson, secretary - manager of the Fair, there will be at least 30 girls in the running.

"The more, the merrier!" he added. The Farmer's Daughter will reign over the Farmer's Fair, Aug. 17th through 21st.

Contestants will be judged for personality, poise, beauty and speaking ability. They will first compete in street wear, then in shorts and blouses.

Early entrants include Marjorie Ann Noller, 18, of Riverside; Marcia Lunsford, 16, San Jacinto; Julie Anne Marquardt, 16, Beaumont; and Linda Bradley, 17, of Sunny-mead.

unique basis. Aspirants will compete in a cow milking contest on Wednesday, August 17th. The following day, they will try their hand at biscuit baking. A patching contest is slated Friday, August 19. The day after, tractor driving over a designated course will be in order for the girls. This will be followed by a mystery event. Points will be given for the various activities and the high scorer becomes the Farmer's Daughter.

State Approves Access Facility At Salton Sea

SACRAMENTO — A permanent Coast Guard Station at Lake Tahoe and an $80,000 access facility on the shores of the Salton Sea were both assured as the result of action by the California Wildlife Conservation Board.

The actions highlighted a two-hour meeting of the Board in Sacramento last Friday. The Board allocated more than $156,000 for eight projects throughout the State.

Action on the Coast Guard Station involved only a transfer of two acres of land owned by the State to the U.S. agency. The land was once the site of the old Tahoe Hatchery. The Board retained some nine acres of the property upon which the Board hopes eventually to consider construction of an angling access facility for fishermen.

The Salton Sea access facility would include two miles of access road, a large parking area, a boat launching ramp, turning basin, jetties and sanitary facilities. The Board allocated $80,600 for the project.

FARM PICKETING ISSUE SIMMERING

WASHINGTON — UPI — Two California grower representatives met with a White House official Monday to discuss the problem of recruiting domestic and Mexican workers for farms being struck by the AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee.

A ruling favorable to employers would permit referral of nonunion and imported workers to picketed farms. Mitchell last week promised to make a prompt study of a California Employment Service measure which forbids such practices.

possible interpretations of the law to Irving Perluss, California Employment Service director.

California growers contend they should not be blocked from use of the employment service for recruitment of workers because the picketing does not involve a legitimate labor dispute. They argue that they are being picketed by "strangers" who never worked on their farms.

CALIFORNIA FARM representatives at the White House Monday were William Tobert, Santa Paula, chairman of the National Farmer Users, and J. J. Miller of Los Angeles, who represents citrus growers.

They conferred with Jack Z. Anderson, the President's legislative assistant.

AFTER THE MEETING, Tolbert and Miller told reporters they had discussed the California situation but were "not trying to exercise influence" on the administration or Mitchell.

Tolbert and Miller said they had also discussed with Anderson labor problems affecting growers in California.

He made the statements Monday in an address before a Civil Defense conference here.

The scientist urged extreme caution in hillside construction to avoid a serious landslide problem. He advised responsible public agencies to provide adequate legislation to prevent dangerous cutting back of slopes without adequate regard for natural configuration.

Photographer Orr tried the old faithful of hot desert areas—trying an egg on poolside pavement—but the Palm Springs breeze foiled the culinary effort. Club program secretary Bob Harrison, seated, left, headed the tour here, the first of the group to Palm Springs. The club—109 strong—has four major tours on its anual June tour agenda, and has voted to include a stop in Palm Springs every time the group comes to Southern California. Highlights of the local stop included Tuesday evening dinner at the Howard Manor, a little shopping by the ladies, and lots of sun and swimming at the Desert Isle. The tourers, traveling by chartered bus, came south along Highway 101. They left at approximately 10 p. m. Wednesday for Fresno, with Morrison doubling as driver. The group will visit a raisin plant, a winery, and an orange grove at Fresno, then move to Reno, Nev., for a look at historical points and a famous casino. Route home will be via Crater Lake. The tour group will camp out for nine of the 16 days of the tour. Headed by a man, the "Outdoor Club" has two girl officers—the vice president and secretary. Meal selections such as the Howard Manor won Peggy Quick, tour mess officer, a gift and ovation during the Tuesday dinner. (Desert Sun Photo)

BOLLMAN GETS VARIANCE FOR IDYLLWILD FURNITURE STORE

A variance permitting James W. Bollman of Indio to convert an existing real estate office and pet shop to a furniture sales room on Fern Valley Road about 50 feet east of Fir Street in Idyllwild was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week.

Property owners within 100 feet of the exterior boundaries of the property have until July 7 to file an appeal, but with signatures of 13 property owners including that of the chamber of commerce president on the application for the variance, it appears improbable that there will be any opposition.

Bollman has a furniture store in Indio on Highway 111.

County Listed 8th in Nation For Agriculture

Riverside County is eighth on the 1959 list of 30 ranking agricultural counties of the United States, according to a report compiled by Lucille Mortimer, director of research and information departments of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce. Robert M. Howie, county agricultural commissioner, submitted the report to the Board of Supervisors this week.

First on the list is Fresno County with a crop value of $390,211,118. This is followed by four other California counties, Tulare, Kern, Los Angeles and San Joaquin. Sixth is an Arizona county, seventh on the list is a Florida county, and then comes Riverside County with a crop value of $151,974,470.

The other 22 counties include 12 in California, four in Texas, another county in Arizona, and one in each of five states, Washington, Pennsylvania, Colorado, Delaware and Connecticut.

Four nearby counties in California are on the list. Imperial ranked 10th with $137,665,613; San Bernardino 16th with $117,229,663; Orange 18th with $114,065,700; and San Diego 19th with $109,596,615.

HONG KONG MECCA FOR RED REFUGEES

EDITOR'S NOTE: The president of United Press International, Frank H. Bartholomew, is on a tour of the Far East. From Tokyo, where he covered the anti-government riots and coordinated UPI coverage of President Eisenhower's recent trip, he has gone to Hong Kong where he now reports on a mecca for the discontented in the surrounding world of Communism.

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
HONG KONG — UPI — The mainland of China will have a thousand million inhabitants by the end of the current century.

This sobering thought for the West, and for the Kremlin in considering the tenure of its present position as boss of world Communism, was presented to United Press International here today by men who guide the destinies of this British crown colony. It is based upon a mathematical projection of the present rate of population increase in Red China.

THE PROBLEM of the future of Hong Kong itself, part of it on the mainland of China and all of it under a self-described "benevolent autocracy" which will not tolerate the Communist Party in government, or free general elections either for that matter, is not the primary concern of Hong Kong's head men at this time.

"You must have faith in the permanency of this Western city, which seems to exist by sufferance of the Communist world," this correspondent suggested to a high political source.

ESTIMATION OF FUTURE political developments is not the primary responsibility of the moment, said the British executive, who declined to be identified by name. "We have three million people here, among them a million refugees, whose welfare must be looked after today," this official said.

THE HELP EXTENDED the million refugees is in the form of housing, employment in new industries coming into being for that purpose, education and medical aid.

The future of Hong Kong, showplace of capitalist prosperity at one of Communism's main gateways, is complicated by the fact that part of the city occupies land leased from the Chinese government on a contract expiring 26 years hence.

Council Rejects Plea of Coin Radio Business

The Palm Springs City Council Monday asked a resolution be drawn for the next regular council meeting rejecting the plea by A. J. Boot, operator of a coin-operated radio business, for a reduction in his city business license fee to the minimum fee of $50.

Boot wrote the council that his business had declined seriously in the past year, apparently because of the inroads of television and transistorized portable radios.

But council members agreed that the requested action could set a precedent for appeals for license fee reductions based on reductions in business volumes. The possibility could result in an inequity between businesses of the same type, the city fathers observed.

Boot estimated a minimum license fee of $50 would take approximately 10 per cent of the gross revenue from the coin radios in the coming year. His fee is now approximately $75.

Since the end of World War II, the nation's tuberculosis death rate has declined about 75 per cent.

From Minnesota to Oregon

Johnny Boyle, Palm Springs singing cowboy, left early this month to participate in the annual ride of Los Caballeros Del Norte in Minnesota.

It is a ride patterned after the grandfather of all rides, Los Rancheros Visitadores out of Santa Barbara.

This year the riders went through Mill Lacs Kathio Park in Onamia, Minnesota, with ten riding groups represented from all parts of the country. This area is referred to as the Wilderness Wonderland and is rich in historic lore.

Shortly after the ride, his wife Tani flew to Minneapolis to join Johnny and they were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Danens (he's president of the ride) who visit Palm Springs each year.

It was the beginning of a round of engagements for the popular pair. One of the first was at the home of the H. A. Shaffers of Minneapolis, who are annual guests here at Smoke Tree Ranch. Mrs. Shaffer has a big collection of tennis trophies.

Chet MacArthur who visits Palm Springs each year, gave a party at his home on Lake Isles and the Boyles entertained. During this visit MacArthur took the Palm Springs to his Bar-None Ranch in St. Francis. It is a showplace on which more than a million dollars has been spent, and is used by underprivileged children during the summer. Asked why he used only the best materials in developing the ranch, MacArthur replied, "I want the children to know and appreciate the finer things ... to give them a goal toward which they can work."

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Widdess of the Dayton Stores in Minnesota, but formerly of California, invited the Boyles to entertain at a couple of parties at their home in Edina.

Shortly afterwards, Johnny took part in the Steam - Up Day program that opened the tourist season in Winona, Minnesota. In addition to a couple of radio and television programs, he took part in a dedication program for the Historical Society, donning a riverboat gambler's costume to sing, Governor Freeman of Minnesota was the speaker at the dedication.

On June 16th, the two Boyles entertained at the popular Minnikadha Country Club in Minnesota, with several friends in the audience.

A moonlight excursion up the Mississippi, aboard the Hiawatha Belle, was another delightful experience for the two desert rats. The Leighton Wilkies of Santa Barbara and Indiana hosted this party, which included a barbecue on a sandbar and entertainment by Johnny (Tani left for home the day before and Johnny came home the following day.)

This past week Johnny went in to Los Angeles, where he entertained at a party which Swedish Consul Walter Danielson gave for the International group which included consuls and wives from Germany, the Philippine Islands and China.

Summer is just beginning for the Boyles. Johnny plans to make the Pikes Peak Ride beginning in Colorado Springs, followed by the Round - Up Ride in Denver. On July 22nd, he begins his tour of the northwest, including Tacoma, and Portland and in August Tani joins him in San Francisco for a few engagements.

Concert Pianist Warms up Signature Room's Piano

Mr. and Mrs. Saul Ruskin were hosts at the Signature Room to a small dinner group which included concert pianist Joseph Monti, former musical director for NBC of New York. Phyla Bedford, popular Signature Room entertainer, persuaded the visitor to play a few classical numbers. Also in the party was Barbara Ruskin, who is home from the University at Arizona at Tucson for the summer.

In that same evening were Esther Jacobsen and Curtis Alexander. Mrs. Jacobsen leaves soon for New York to visit her son and daughter-in-law Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobson. Her son is stationed at Fort Dix.

Others in for luncheon, included Orph Frank who sandwiched lunch in between hairdressers, fittings and carpet cleaners. In a huddle nearby were Cliff Brown, Harold West, Jimmy Cooper and Charles MacDonald. Jack and Helen Kenaston were with Kay Obergel and Janice Doud, and Jack Fugitt was with the Dick Atterburys.

The A. R. Simons dropped by for a cantonese dinner, following a strenuous bowling bout at Palm Springs Lanes. The Larry Coopers were in and out headed for Newport to christen their new yacht. Ruby was dining and gazing affectionately at the copper piano that Phyla Bedford is using, keeping it warmed up for future Foy action at The Dunes.

Others signing in at the Signature Room included Ed McCoubrey

the Dewey Carters, Mabel Rogers and Grace Bellingham, and the Samuel Grays, who will be here all summer.

Golfer Alice Heffernan was in with Mrs. John Drew who was here from Las Vegas. The Arnold Runwells and Sig and Sally Ehrens, the C. C. Hutchins and daughter Sue, and George Hearst, who is now a Palm Springs resident. Manuel Alvarez, who has just purchased one of the Jack Meiselman houses was dining with Jack and Berne Meiselman, and the Walter Brunmarks were in for a filet mignon and to say goodbye until next fall.

Jeri Wormser, who left on vacation this weekend, was in with a group of J. W. Robinson executives. George Wheeler was in with his letter and Al Weingarten was in and out.

A BOWER OF FLOWERS in the garden of the P. A. Staley home was the setting for the 8 o'clock wedding of Jean Staley and William Edwin Vaughan on Friday evening. Here the newlyweds cut the first slices of their wedding cake. Wine glasses were used to separate the three tiers, lending crystal beauty to the bell-topped cake. (Anderson Photo).

Vaughan-Staley Vows Said

White stock and delphinium formed a bridal bower in the garden of the Valmonte del Norte home of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Staley, making a charming setting for the wedding of their daughter Jean Christine and William Edwin Vaughan Friday night. Rev. B. B. Weatherall, former pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church officiated at the ceremony.

It was a double ring ceremony, with the bride donning her great grandmother's wedding ring, a plain gold band.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long full-skirted gown and her lace veil was caught up with a coronet. She carried a bouquet of dainty

WHITE CANDLES and baskets of white and pink gladioli and chrysanthemums and miniature palms banked the altar of the Westchester Methodist Church when Patricia Ann Seaborn of Gardena was married to Clayton Wright Zahnizer of Morongo Valley, a former Palm Springs resident. The bride, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Simmons of Yucca Valley, is wearing an Alfred Angelo creation of silk organza over tulle, its portrait neckline outlined in alencon lace.

Above and Beyond the Call of Duty

This Side of The Sun
By Phat

Time to start dredging
That unsightly clutter
Of notes on my desk
That's utterly utter.

Today's noble resolve to clean up my desk was activated by a chance remark I overheard which I thought had a slurring inflection.

"That's a nice - looking desk my son gave my husband - if you could only see it."

THAT'S WHAT decided me. I placed a big wastebasket on one side of the desk and a low stool - for stuff I wanted to save - on the other and started to dig.

First I took the newspapers off the top of the tottering pile and was about to put them in the wastebasket when I realized that perhaps they contained some item I wanted, and put them on the stool, instead.

NEXT LAYER DOWN contained the last mail naturally.

First was a note from a Vil-lager:

"I note that you frequently take cracks at TV commercials. I'm with you even if I realize the commercials pay for the programs. But I pay to have TV, too."

"You know, Phat, it used to be that you had pictures, interrupted now and then by a commercial."

"Now you have commercials, interrupted now and then by a picture."

ANOTHER CONCERNED portable radio.

"You recently wrote you had discovered a new pest, the nut who takes a portable radio to a sports event. Tunes it up loud on an eastern baseball game while watching the horse races or listening to a prize fight while watching the Dodgers."

"I wouldn't know about that as betting on the horses is a foolish waste of money and it's too difficult to get to the Coliseum."

"But, were you ever awakened at night by the loud strains of Rock 'n' Roll emanating from a portable radio carried by a young swam as he and his girl friend strolled slowly by your house?"

FOR A CHANGE, I thought I'd dig into the bottom of the pile. The last time I cleaned off the desk was during the Thanksgiving Day holidays so that would be November's material. First item pulled out stopped all work. It was a copy of The Times of India. Interesting reading especially the matrimonial portion of the classified ads.

THIS IS THE ONE I liked best. "A British Company executive, Hindu, Age 23, drawing four figure salary, only son of high Government Official seeks matrimonial alliance. Girl only consideration. Please contact with full details Box x x x The Times of India, Bombay."

That sentence "girl only consideration" puzzles me.

When I finished there were two worthless pari-mutual tickets in the waste basket. The stool was staked high and tottering.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Breathlessly

The latest thing on jet airplanes is the oxygen mask. It is tucked in a little compartment over your head - at least the stewardess SAYS it is in this compartment. I never peeked. Maybe it is stuffed with kleenex. If you should need oxygen (says the flying lady), the mask will drop automatically into your lap.

"PLACE OVER your nose" - she demonstrates - "and breathe normally."

I am glad this has never happened to me. I have just discovered I do not breathe normally.

SKIN DIVING is the latest sport. It requires very little equipment - as near as I can see all you need is an ocean. And the ability to hold your breath for 15 minutes under water.

Anyway, it looks fairly glamorous in the skin diving magazine. You know, the mask on the face and those yellow air tanks on your back. You haul out dripping wet onto the deck of the yacht.

"A BIT OF A tussle with a sand shark down there. But I'm positive we located the wreck of the Felipe III - 18 guns, Cartagena for Cadiz with the cathedral treasure."

And you let a few gold doubloons dribble from your fist.

It is not that easy, of course. We discovered you can take skin diving lessons at a ridiculously low price. But for some reason, they schedule them right at the cocktail hour. We decided to buy a book on skin diving temporarily.

IT SEEMS quite simple. "Spit on inside of mask to prevent fogging. Rub with fingers and rinse."

We went down and bought a mask and spit on it, rubbed it and rinsed.

We looked up the chapter: "Choosing a Snorkle."

We chose a snorkle and bought it. (By this time, the owner of the store swam over, drawn by the clatter of the cash register.)

HE SOLD US a pair of flippers: "Especially designed for walking on coral."

There is no coral in our community swimming pool. But I didn't want to look chicken. I wanted to look like a man who walks on coral, that's what.

WE PUT OFF buying air tanks. But I bought a similar, smaller set of everything for our 4-year-old boy.

"I'll pick up the tanks later," I said carelessly. "I don't think we'll be diving deeper than 30 fathoms this time."

AS A MATTER of fact, we submerged first in the shallow end - no use pushing these things. I submerged and took a big suck on the snorkle. I got an awful lot of water.

I came up and looked at the snorkle. There was a hole in the bottom. I got out the directions. "Place valve over bottom hole." I found the blasted valve in the box and put it on.

IS SUBMERGED again. This time I got air. Do you know it is impossible to breathe normally through those things? Absolutely true. I breathed abnormally, since there was nothing else to do.

After awhile I came up and sat on the edge of the pool and panted.

OUR SON, ODDLY enough, can breathe quite normally. I think he breathes water. He uses the snorkle only for show. It looks good hanging on his mask. He doesn't put the end in his mouth. He just takes a big, deep breath and goes under water.

AND HE STAYS, and stays and stays and STAYS - until you think, good grief, COME ON UP! And when you leap in - the water colder than billy-o - he comes up with hardly a gasp.

We both spit on our masks, rubbed and rinsed. Skin diving is an excellent sport with the right equipment. We couldn't really get along without it.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Viewers Smarter

HOLLYWOOD - The viewers keep getting smarter-and that's why "good showmanship" in Presidential campaigns has become secondary to "news savvy." Only two White House hopefuls - Richard Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller - have shown themselves capable of handling ad-lib interviews in which the questions and answers aren't doped out ahead of time or put on TelePromoters.

President Eisenhower learned the hard way about it, to the extent that Jim Hagerty, his press chief, sliced hundreds of feet of TV film footage out of the President's weekly press conferences - the kind that showed Ike ruffling at some of the questions popped at him.

"DON'T ANTAGONIZE prospective voters" is the word passed on to all campaigners for the nation's highest office by the Madison Avenue grey - flannel-mouths. How is this accomplished? By looking your best and by speaking forcefully and dramatically (see "good showmanship" above). But even more important (see "news savvy"), be so fast on your feet that a fast reference to a certain subject won't turn into a political bobby trap.

I refer to Adlai Stevenson's one - sentence remark, during a TV interview in France, about Presidential tact in the wake of the U-2 incident. It was blown up into glaring headlines, some good for Stevenson, some bad. The parties' choices, or say the MadAv boys MUST be men who never make errors on mike or on camera.

RED SKELTON'S snapper: "You dig crazy kicks, man? Meet me at 8:30 sharp tonight in front of the Japanese Embassy and we'll stage a riot."

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. knows now that he will eventually have to obtain a California divorce, rather than a Nevada decree. Stephanie refused to agree to the Las Vegas quickie. And so, because Ef will be slaving this summer in a film (Fever in the Blood) and several 77 Sunset Strip segments, he has sent his two older children to live with his sister in Italy.

THE SAME COLA company whose airshows helped boost a relatively unknown named Eddie Fisher to fame a few years back is offering the same deal to Paul Anka. Further along the road to stardom than Fisher was at the same age, young Anka has refused to be tied down to a TV series, but he is all set to sign up for a far less arduous radio deal calling for five 15-minute "songologues" per week.

Patti Page is mighty fine in her first big movie role - as the "Bible" - walloping assistant of Jean Simmons in Elmer Gantry. But it's another "sweet" singer. Shirley Jones, who steals the show. This is the most off-beat bit of casting of the past 10 years. Shirley plays the prostitute who blackmails the two "star evangelists" of the movie, Miss Simmons and Burt Lancaster.

I ASKED SHIRLEY how she got the part. She actually wept as she told me: "It was the strangest thing that has ever happened to me. Here I was, apparently doomed to the same sweet - young - thing parts I played in Oklahoma! and Carousel for the rest of my life. Remember the straight dramatic role I played opposite Red Skelton in a Playhouse 90 three years ago? No? I had forgotten it too. But Burt Lancaster, bless him, saw it and did NOT forget. And that's how I got it."

"The hardest part of it followed. Richard Brooks, Burt's director, didn't think I was right for it. It took weeks of walking on that set, with that horrible feeling that I wasn't wanted, before I convinced him. Bless him, too - because when I finally won him over he REALLY went to town for me and gave me the direction I needed!"

SPEAKING OF Lancaster, Burt hired a Colored preacher, the Rev. Ben Moring, as technical advisor on A Matter of Conviction, another juvenile delinquency project. I got this fine quote from the Rev. Moring on Burt's set: "When I first started working in the slums I had to flatten several young toughs. But I always flattened them with love and kindness!"

Ralph Edwards' format for a new TV series, All - Star Baseball: participants in the studio audience would call decisions on crucial plays, following which there will be tape runoffs on the plays themselves, as taken from TV tapings of actual games.

REMEMBER THE "serious - type" panel show that NBC wouldn't let Steve Allen do because it didn't fit into the network's notion of a comedian's kind of show? CBS has a sponsor for a new hour - long David Susskind series, Witness. As in the Allen show, this one will have a panel playing a fictional investigating committee that holds hearings on crimes committed by real - life rogues of history.

Employees of NBC's "continuity acceptance department" (so why don't they come right out and call it what it actually is, their own self - censor bureau?) are gearing to tighten up on censorship for the 1960-61 season. This means fewer "sexy ad-libs" (usually well rehearsed) on such unscribed shows as Today, Arthur Murray and Jack Paar.

IT ALSO MEANS less violence, or so says chief censor Carl M. Watson, in so many words: "We have asked the Western and private-eye producers not to go in for excessive gore. And, finally, it means "more confirmation of representation" which is network gobbledegook for honest commercials. For instance, says Watson, use of whipped potatoes to represent ice cream will be okay, since ice cream itself melts under the strong studio lights, but the network nabobs must know about all such artifices ahead of time.

Blabbed by a Beverly Hills doorbell - ringer: "I just heard about your marriage being on the rocks, sweetie, so I came over to get my wedding present back."

JUNE 29, 1940

The 850 boys, including Glenwood Tompkins, Allen Hall, Richard Outcalt, Donald Pendery and Raymond Sorum of Palm Springs, who are attending the American Legion-sponsored "Boys State" encampment at the state fair grounds at Sacramento, were isolated by capital city health authorities this week after two cases of scarlet fever were discovered at the camp.

The State Assembly has asked the City Council to establish a community scrap iron dumping yard, with donations to be given to the government.

JUNE 29, 1930

In the July issue of the National Geographic are pictures taken along the west coast of Mexico by Fred Payne Clatworthy, the natural-color photographer of Palm Springs.

Names of Palm Springs streets have been changed by the Board of Supervisors. A petition presented asserted that the former names were strictly agricultural in nature, and the community is now primarily resort, with agriculture a minor commodity. Only street retaining its name is Indian Avenue.

Martinis Were Clear

TOKYO - We attended the most heavily guarded cocktail party in history the other night at the residence of U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur 2d. The weather was foggy and the political situation clouded, but I am happy to report that the martinis were crystal clear.

Outside the handsome residence where our ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary resides with his delightful wife, daughter of the late great Alben Barkley, an entire block of buses were parked, jammed with police.

THE JAPANESE - American military pact had been sealed that morning with the customary hush that has attended this historic episode in the life and times of the two countries. President Eisenhower's "predated" document was brought up to date by Ambassador MacArthur, who had had it for three or four days before the U.S. Senate okayed it, and MacArthur handed it to Japanese Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama in a hurried ceremony.

It is one of the most important treaties the U.S. and certainly Japan ever signed. But the tense and hurried ceremony surrounding it smacked of a negotiation between a shylock and a fellow in need of a $50 loan - under a bridge in darkest Brooklyn.

BOTH SIDES WERE afraid the enemy would pounce, the enemy being the muscular beatniks of the Zengakuren, the communist-laced Sohyo Labor Union complex and all others who believe or profess to believe that this treaty will in time bring down fire and brimstone on Japan.

Now there was this cocktail party, not so much in celebration of the sealing of the pact as in favor of some American working slob grazing through town. The police had been there for many hours, from the looks of some of them asleep in their buses.

THEY HAD TO come to the embassy to protect it as soon as several thousand stung and belligerent demonstrators had shown up outside the forlorn residence of the architect of the treaty - retiring Prime Minister Kishi.

Nothing happened. Mrs. MacArthur's hushed and d tiploeing servants passed drinks and canapés. He polite chit - chat persevered. Nobody seemed to take particular notice of the fact that never after that, in all probability, would they ever be safer drinking a martini.

MAYBE THIS IS old in the States, as we say out here in the inscrutable East, but there is a new definition of an optimist and pessimist floating around this American - dominated part of this uncertain world.

An optimist, it seems, is a person who is studying Russian. A pessimist is one who is studying Chinese.

AMBASSADOR MACARTHUR received an apologetic note from a Japanese professor he knows. The professor, who is ardently pro-American, wrote he was sorry to relate that he had taken part in one of the bitterly anti-American demonstrations which marked protests against the scheduled visit of President Eisenhower, the signing of the Japanese - American security treaty and the continued presence in office of the chief architect of that treaty - Prime Minister Kishi.

"I hope you will understand that to have refused to demonstrate with the others in my university might have meant my job, and as you know I need my job very much," the professor wrote. "Let it be known, however, that I tried to remain true to you by not singing out 'Yankee, go home.' I don't know where I will go from this point. I think of suicide now all the time."

-Bob Considine

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Joe E. Brown, one of the few men in the world not to take umbrage when chided, "you and your big mouth," may become a television regular next season in a new situation comedy series.

The 68-year-old funnyman already has completed the pilot film of "For the Love of Gramps," which currently is seeking a sponsor.

"I PLAY A RETIRED detective," he explained, "which is right in keeping with the trend toward private eye shows. But it also is a comedy. You see, I stay at home solving crimes from an armchair while my son-in-law does all the leg work."

Brown, spry and optimistic, does his own leg work in real life.

THIS SUMMER he will busy himself starring as Captain Andy in a stage version of "Showboat," both in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He also will tie off for his youthful stamping grounds in Ohio to appear in "Father of the Bride" in Canal Fulton. He will play the same role for two weeks in Hinsdale, Ill.

CERTAINLY BROWN is financially secure. He has a lovely home in movie town, and all the honors a performer can handle in a lifetime. Why does he insist on working?

"I want to keep busy doing something all the time," he said, adding, "and this TV show also presents an opportunity to bring back some innocent laughs for the entire family."

"THESE DAYS we're getting our laughs too quickly. People are laughing at words, not at sight gags. Audiences should laugh at the character and the situation instead of what is being said.

"We might just as well return to radio if our humor is limited to dialogue. A true comedian makes you laugh at what he is and does, not just at what he says."

MUCH OF BROWN'S time is devoted to his favorite avocation — baseball.

In addition to starring in three baseball pictures, "Fireman Save My Child," "Elmer the Great" and "Alibi Ike," the rubber-faced funnyman once played semi-pro ball and took part in a couple of exhibition games with the Boston Red Sox in 1920.

"NOW I LIMIT MY activities to the youth of baseball," he said. "I'm president of the Pony League, for 13 and 14-year-old boys. Recently we merged with the Colt League, for 15 and 16-year-olds. We keep the two leagues separate because a two-year difference is too much of an advantage for the older boys at that age."

"RIGHT NOW some 90,000 boys take part in our leagues, with about 14,000 parents supervising their play."

"I'd like to do more for baseball, but I guess my son Joe L. Brown is doing all he can. Joe is general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and they look as if they have a fine chance for the pennant this season. I'd be mighty happy to see that."

Retirement?

"Not a chance," Brown concluded. "I'm having too much fun keeping busy. As long as I can make people laugh, I'll keep working."

SPACE PIONEERS ON DANGER ZONE

Host "Pappy" Boyington salutes the men and women who have contributed to our efforts to conquer space on "Danger Zone," Wednesday, June 29, 8 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.

In man's first effort to get off the ground, the early days of ballooning are seen, with guest Ed Unger, who made his first balloon flight in the 1890's, describing the memorable day at Kittyhawk in 1903 when the first airplane rose off the ground.

Next is a film record of the early airplane endurance flights, including the first Atlantic crossing in 1919 to the year of 1927 when the air over the Atlantic was filled with planes with guest E. C. Rhoades, one of the two survivors of the 1919 transatlantic flight; and finally, film footage probes the perils of modern experiments in rockets to outer space, and Capt. Rob Roy, launching officer at Vandenberg Air Base guest.

Mexican Waters Are Visited

Mac McClintock takes viewers on a cruise of Mexican waters, with stops at interesting seaports and looks at unusual fishing techniques used by natives and the appearance of giant manta rays on a "Fishing Flashes," Wednesday, June 29, 8:30 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.

Treasure Goes To Caribbean

Bill Burrud's "Treasure" traces a path to a treasure island in the Caribbean in search of the silver mine of Diego Columbus and a pirates' secret cave in "Pirates' Passage," Wednesday, June 29, 6:30 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.

'Dehydrated Hell' Is Citizen Soldier Show

"Dehydrated Hell," appropriately dubbed Sherman tank, becomes a decoy for an entire division during the true story of the "Five Men of Steel," to be seen during KTTV's "Citizen Soldier," Wednesday, June 29, 8 p.m., Channel 11.

It took "men of steel" to operate the giant machines of steel, the Sherman tanks... and this is the stirring story of the crew of one of them. Four of the crew, the enlisted men, are hard-bitten veterans of Third Army campaigns—the C.O., 2nd Lt. Morrison, fresh from O.C.S., is dubbed a "90-day wonder" by the men.

The mission as forward observers is simple and almost suicidal—to locate pockets of German rear-guard strength, call for massed fire power and hold onto their position until the enemy force is destroyed.

The retreating German Sixth Panzer Division is the object of the search, and all efforts to locate it have failed. To accomplish their mission, therefore, the men of "Dehydrated Hell" become a decoy—a sitting duck for an entire division.

'GOLD MOUNTAIN' ON STEEL HOUR TV

Polly Bergen, Burt Brinckerhoff, Robert Lansing and special guest Ed Begley star Wednesday, June 29 in "The Great Gold Mountain," story of the influence of a charming stranger on a small town, on "The United States Steel Hour" on the CBS Television Network, 10-11 p.m.

Narrating in the flashback manner of the classic "Our Town," newspaperman Ed Gande (Brinckerhoff) relives the 1929 Jazz Era advent of Lilith Smallwood (Miss Bergen) into a small Indiana community as the aftermath of a highway accident. She remains to impress, delight, love—and blight—the town's citizenry.

Under her spell fall Gande's; his girl Gildy (Carolyn Groves); his friend Clyde (Jack Betz); the rich Elwood Patterson (Burton Malory); printer Cot (Joseph Sweeney); aging editor Buckmaster (Begley), and the latter's frivolous young wife Iris (Diana Millay).

Appearance of Lilith's brother Jay (Lansing) sets the stage for a stock certificate deal, a flirtation, a suicide, and other events that make up Gande's recollections of Lilith.

James McCague's novel was adapted for television by Ron Sporat and was directed by Paul Bogart. George Kondolf is executive producer for the Theater Guild and Williams Nichols is his associate.

Killer Search Is Hampered by Interference

When a Pony Express rider is shot down in cold blood, Division Agent Brett Clark (Grant Sullivan) finds his efforts to locate the killer hampered by interference from a beautiful half-breed and her dissipated admirer during KTTV's "Pony Express," Wednesday, June 29, 7 p.m., Channel 11.

The half-breed, Cayatana, and her admirer, Murchison are bounty-hunters, after the killer for the $5,000 reward money, while Brett Clark is interested in bringing the murderer to justice. They try to throw Clark off the trail and when this fails, tag along with him on his arduous trek through savage Indian country.

Manfred Drawn Into Violence

Ben Manfred, M. P. (Played by Jack Hawkins) champions justice in an Ireland torn by outbreaks of national violence, during the new "Four Just Men" episode, "The Heritage," telecast Wednesday night, June 29 at 7:00 p.m. over KRCA (Channel 4).

Dan Dailey, Richard Conte and Vittorio de Sica co-star with Hawkins in the popular series based on Edgar Wallace's famed novel.

LEGAL NOTICE

No. 389 ORDINANCE NO. 477

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, AMENDING SECTION 9312 OF ARTICLE 93A, DIVISION 9, OF THE "PALM SPRINGS ORDINANCE CODE," TO LIMIT, BY RIGHT, R-1 ZONE DISTRICT USES IN GUEST RANCH ZONE DISTRICTS, WITH OTHER USES PERMITTED FROM COMPLIANCE WITH THE CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT PROCEDURES; DECLARING THIS ORDINANCE TO BE AN EMERGENCY MEASURE TO BECOME EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, AS FOLLOWS: SECTION 1. Section 9312 of Article 93A, Division 9, of the "Palm Springs Ordinance Code" is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. URGENT: This ordinance is declared to be an emergency measure within the meaning of Sections 9308 and 9309 of the Government Code of the State of California for the following reasons:

1. The City is presently engaged in preparation and adoption of a "General Plan" for the City, which plan has again been referred to the City Council by the Planning Commission, for final adoption. The "General Plan" would call for the elimination of the present Guest Ranch Zone District classification and provide primarily for R-1 Zone use.

2. The City is presently engaged in preparing, and has been engaged for the past six months, a rezoning map to implement the above referred to "General Plan." The zoning map and ordinance, when effective, would rezone the present Guest Ranch Zone Districts with R-1 zoning as provided by the "General Plan."

3. The permitted uses in the present Guest Ranch Zone District are not compatible with the uses permitted in the R-1 Zone District, and the uses permitted should be limited to R-1 Zone District uses with other uses presently permitted in the R-1 Zone District, with conditional use permit procedure.

SECTION 3. EFFECTIVE DATE: This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon reading and adoption by the majority of the City Council.

SECTION 4. PUBLICATION: The City Clerk is hereby ordered and directed to certify to the passage of this ordinance and to cause the same to be published once in The Desert Sun, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of Palm Springs, California.

ATTEST: SHIRLEY HENRY, City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs, California.

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs, California, hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance, being Ordinance No. 477, of the City of Palm Springs, was adopted as an emergency measure at a meeting of the City Council of said City held on the 22nd day of June, 1960, after having been read in full, said Ordinance shall become effective immediately and was so adopted by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen McKinnor, Strohe, Paisley, Carlin, Beebe and Mayor Bogert. NOES: None.

ATTEST: Councilman Kirk. I hereby certify that the said Ordinance was thereupon signed by F. M. BOGERT, Mayor of Palm Springs, and attested by SHIRLEY HENRY, City Clerk of said City.

WITNESS my hand and seal of said City this 23rd day of June, 1960.

SHIRLEY HENRY, City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs, California.

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs, California, hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance, being Ordinance No. 478, of the City of Palm Springs, was adopted as an emergency measure at a meeting of the City Council of said City held on the 22nd day of June, 1960, after having been read in full, said Ordinance shall become effective immediately and was so adopted by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen McKinnor, Strohe, Paisley, Carlin and Mayor Bogert. NOES: None.

ATTEST: Councilman Kirk. I hereby certify that the said Ordinance was thereupon signed by F. M. BOGERT, Mayor of Palm Springs, and attested by SHIRLEY HENRY, City Clerk of said City.

WITNESS my hand and seal of said City this 23rd day of June, 1960.

SHIRLEY HENRY, City Clerk of the City of Palm Springs, California.

David Zappe's Birthday Celebrated at PS Lanes

By JEAN PATANE
On Monday, David Zappe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Zappe, celebrated his fourteenth birthday with his friend Duke Patane, brother Dwayne and his friend Bond Germain at the Palm Springs Lanes. Refreshments followed an afternoon of bowling. David was the recipient of the American Legion Citizenship award on his graduation from Nellie Coffman Junior High School this year.

Among guests at the Palos Verdes Apartments were Mrs. Ben Blunn, who was here last week, and who was joined by her husband for the weekend, returning Sunday to their home in Burbank and Mrs. Mary Cunningham who returned to her home in Los Angeles following a five-day desert visit. Here for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bourne and Dr. and Mrs. John Bergmann also from Los Angeles.

Mrs. Merrill Oistad with daughter Diane and son Kit left Tuesday for Highland Park to spend a week as houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson and family. Mrs. Oistad and Mrs. Thompson have been close friends since working together in East St. Louis, Ill.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wilson, owners of the Sunair Terrace, over the weekend were her cousins Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hosier, en route from Detroit, Mich., to make their home in Los Angeles.

Weekend before last, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Woody, their son Keith and her mother Mrs. Leota Daniel, were in San Diego at the home of his sister and family, the Gene Blackmans. While there they visited with Mrs. Daniel's grandson, David Emert, who had just completed his boot training at the naval base.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pugh entertained with swimming and a patio barbecue for friends Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hadley, Ricky Lupo and Lacyne Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, former trailerites, are now making their home at the Vista Hermosa Apartments on Banks Drive. Johnson has been associated with the telephone company for almost ten years.

Gary and Greg Hicks flew in Saturday from their home in Eureka and are enjoying a visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Doren, owners of the Char-Leene Apartments.

STATE PUTS $37,437 TOWARD STREET REPAIRS

City of Palm Springs received a total of $37,437.03 in State gasoline tax revenues for city street work during the past fiscal year, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack announced this week.

This amount is the revenue from five-eighths of a cent per gallon out of the State gasoline taxes paid by highway users. It is apportioned by the State Division of Highways from the State Highway Fund on a population basis as specified by State law. Palm Springs ranked third among cities in the county, being passed only by Riverside, $248,181.80, and Corona, $39,590.91. Indio ranked fifth with $26,886.36.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: Our milkman is a handsome young man about 30 and he's so nice I hate to hurt his feelings. I gave him my back door key to let himself in and put my milk in my refrigerator.

My husband says the milkman is supposed to leave the milk outside the door. He is raising quite a fuss about it, too. I like to sleep mornings and don't want the milk to get sour; that's why I gave him a back door key. My husband has no reason to be jealous of the milkman but I believe he is. Should I ask the milkman for the key and tell him to leave the milk outside or what?

LOUISE
DEAR LOUISE: Better to have sour milk than a sour marriage. Your husband's wishes outrank the milkman's feelings. Get the key.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends invited my husband and me to dine at a roadhouse cafe. The four of us ordered steaks. Just as I started to eat mine I noticed a dead fly on it. I pushed it back and asked my husband to order me another one. He refused and traded steaks with me. I told him he shouldn't eat it either, but he said it didn't bother him. I lost my temper and we had a few words. By this time people at other tables were taking it all in and started voicing their opinions. Some were with me and some were with him. Our host insisted on ordering another steak. Do you think I was wrong to mention the dead fly? Or should I have brushed it off and eaten the steak anyway?

SQUEAMISH

DEAR SQUEAMISH: Telling

your husband was fine. He then should have quietly ordered another steak. Since he lacked the courage, you should have let him trade steaks with you instead of making an issue of it. The lively row between you was probably far more humiliating to your host than the presence of a dead fly on your steak.
